Full details can be found at <http://www.powerwater.com.au/accreditationguidelines>

Power and Water Corporation shall evaluate existing and potential designers, certifiers and constructors capabilities using the following measures:

- Demonstration by the designers, certifiers and constructors of understanding, commitment and capability to fulfil Power and Water's requirements in respect of the project, work, or an order
- Past experience of the designers, certifiers and constructors ability to design and/or construct or maintain assets that meets or exceeds the specification, at or better than the required quality, and where appropriate, within the specified time and at the agreed price
- Any special qualifications required by Power and Water, such as licences, special authorisations, training courses, and the like.

Using the above measures, each individual shall be rated as follows:-

- I = Interim accreditation
- A = Acceptable accreditation
- P = Preferred accreditation
- E = Excluded from accreditation

Developers/proponents are only to utilise those classified as Preferred, Acceptable or Interim.

Professional conduct

Those holding accreditation are required to interact with Power and Water and all others involved in gifted assets process, to be undertaken professionally. This includes performing duties with skill, impartiality, professionalism and integrity and exercising courtesy, consideration and sensitivity and acting with fairness and equity in all dealings. Unprofessional conduct may result in exclusion from accreditation.

Accreditation categories

The below table defines when a certifier is required and when standard drawings and licensed plumber can be used and the qualifications required for each category. Power and Water, in line with many other jurisdictions, does not allow the same person to carry out the certification if they are also involved in the construction of the works, in categories where a certifier is required.

	Building or land development	Designer/certifier required	Designer/Certifier minimum qualification required	Contractor minimum qualification required

BP<sup>2</sup> - Construction

Registered and active NT Building Practitioner or Company in the categories of

- Certifying Plumber and Drainer

BP<sup>1</sup> – Design and Certification

Registered and Active NT Building Practitioner in the categories of

- Certifying Engineer \(Hydraulic\)
- Certifying Plumber and Drainer \(Design\)

Please note that individual responsibility for those companies registered is required under Power and Water accreditation, even where a company is registered and that automatic accreditation is not provided until such time as application and demonstrable knowledge of Power and Water can be shown.

^ Relevant engineering qualification, experience and demonstrated knowledge.

#Power and Water will provide approval for building designers, certifiers and constructors to undertake small subdivisions on a case by case basis to enable progression from building to land development accreditation, based on satisfactory past performance.

*Specific approval is required for these types of development activities. Prior to proponent engaging any designers, certifiers and constructors, approval must be sought from Power and Water. Minimum qualifications and experience of the previous categories may be req
